Summary

Stacy Paetz is a unique blend of Polynesian, Cherokee Indian and Greek descent. She's an award winning Television Host, Sideline Reporter, Voice Over Specialist and Producer, with proven credibility and trust throughout the television and sports industries.

Stacy began her career making history. At only 19-years-old, she made her first on-air appearance on ESPN. She became the first female and youngest individual in the NBA to host every pre-game, halftime and post-game show, as well as report from the sidelines for the Indiana Pacers on FOX Sports for seven seasons. In 2014, Stacy became the first female announcer in the 90-year history of the World Famous Harlem Globetrotters, announcing on both U.S. and International tours. Stacy was named Graduate of the Decade for Ball State University just five years post-graduation and was later honored as one of the Most Influential 30 under 30 in Journalism.
